

This Practitioner checklist is for you to have on hand to help while you are emailing or having a phone conversation with the client prior to actually meeting them. You want to be sure you have gone over all your main pre-session elements so that misconceptions or concerns can be rooted out in advance. This will also help you decide if this is a client you can, or want to help and identify the type of session they are seeking.

First contact checklist

- Get full name and phone number
- Begin to listen to your INTUITION. What does it feel like to communicate with the client?
- How did they find you or learn about BQH?
- What is the main reason they are seeking a session? (The answer to this question might take care of the answers to the next few points)
- What do they want to know about BQH?
- Have they had a Quantum Healing session before?
- Have they watched any similar sessions on YouTube or read accounts of sessions?
- How do they think BQH will help them/change their life?
- What do they know or believe about hypnosis?
- Have they read the information about BQH on your website (or on quantumhealers.com?)
- Explain your schedule/payment/technology/privacy policies
