

Session Type: Source or Soul Origin

Definition

The client experiences themselves as a part of Source or God or All That There Is.

How can you tell?

Usually this becomes apparent when you start to ask the client how they see themselves in whatever environment they are experiencing. They will say they have no form and yet they will begin to describe being a part of a great bright light, massive energy potential or sometimes even "The Void."

Basic Exploration

This session type can be somewhat difficult in that clients experiencing this state don't usually want to do much communicating! They often just want to bathe in the energy of "home" or "God" or "Source." This is okay- and encouraged but keep checking in to keep the communication possible. You can compress time as well if necessary.

Suggested Questions

Where are you? (Set the Scene...big picture first)

What is happening?

What is your INTERNAL landscape? How are you feeling?

What is the story? Let's find out.

More Specific Questions or Directions

How do you know where you are?

Can you communicate with Source?

Does Source communicate with you?

How/when do you change perspective (to live another life or be human?)

How is that decision made?

What learning/expansion/understanding can you bring back to your human client?
(HEALING potential here is very great)

These sessions are sometimes difficult for the practitioner, but rest assured they are not difficult at all for the client. Most clients simply want to stay there and float. In this place you can ask ALL of the questions and usually get all of the healing requested or desired.

Most practitioners want to keep the session moving into other scenes, etc. You can simply ask your client if or when they want to move on and experience something else if they even do want to do that. There are no hard or fast rules here by any means.

Sometimes the client doesn't even want to talk very much, and that's okay. They can just soak up the energies, the healing and the peace that this type of session can bring. Many just lay there and cry or release emotions. This is fine to do for a while. Remember this is why most of your clients have come to you.

Source/Soul Origin Session Example

Where are you? I see a bright light. A very bright, bright light.

A light? Yes, a big, huge overwhelming light. It's like the sun, but it is so much bigger and so much brighter...

Can you describe yourself in this place? Do you have form? No form, well, maybe. I might be an orb a ball of light. A piece of this same light. That's what I am (beginning to cry) And I am home. I am home. This is home. (Lots more crying.) I have been wanting, waiting, dreaming of coming back here. I miss this place so much. (more crying)

Is there healing available here? Oh of course. Everything is here. Everything I would ever need is here, yes.

Can we bring healing here for (client's name) right now? Do we need a team to assist? My team is part of the light. They are here already, yes.

And the session goes on from there.
